Tom Cumming spent Thursday in the city from the splendid ranch north of Calabasas owned by himself and brother.

The big bargain sale at The Red House has been on all week. High-grade goods are being sold at prices never before heard of in Nogales.

President and Manager A. M. Conard of the Sonora Copper Company is up from Cobre Grande to enjoy a couple of days visit with the folks.

City Councilman George B. Marsh is getting along fine and will soon be able to again circulate among his friends. "Let the Lord be thankit."

Frank Irvine is having a well dug on his Elm street place, one of the most attractive in the city, with its many shade trees and beautiful flowers.

The Cresent Copper Company's properties near the city are looking good according to advices from the mine, received by President Chapman.

The fun-loving people of Nogales are impatiently waiting for the revolutionists to pay Nogales, Sonora, a visit. This suspense is simply awful.

This morning Mr. H. A. Smith, the Hermosillo land agent, and Mr. Hermann Clauser, the oil expert of this city, went into the country in Mr. Smith's automobile.

James Flinn and wife are visiting in the city, from Mexico, where for several years Jim has been in the employ of the railroad company, as foreman of bridges.

The bright little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferd VanMourick, as a result of injuries received by a fall while playing at home, has been quite ill but is now on the road to recovery.

Colin Cameron, Jr. has been a visitor in the city a couple of days from Tucson, where the Camerons now make their home. Mr. Cameron came down to the line city in his automobile.

Herbert Wood, formerly of Nogales, now a resident of Guaymas, Sonora, where he has a fine position, arrived in the city Wednesday and has since been enjoying a visit with old friends and acquaintances.

Thursday Fred C. Emery, president of La Cobreza Mining Company, accompanied by Mrs. Emery and their little girl, came up from the mine, making the cross-country trip in Mr. Emery's fine Winton-Six automobile.

Saturday Shugart & Perry opened their wet-goods emporium on Morley avenue, in front of the electric light plant. There were sandwiches and Schlitz beer galore, and everybody present had a fine time.

Wednesday morning Deputy Sheriff J. J. Lowe, accompanied by Special Officers Ed. Herold and John Rafael, went to Florence with four prisoners convicted at the recent term of court and sentenced to the territorial penitentiary.

Four troops of United States cavalry are now stationed here and peace and quiet reign supreme. Uncle Sam's boys are made to feel at home in Nogales. The department of the boys is excellent and we are glad to have them with us.

Next Monday there will be held in this city at the law office of Frank J. Duffy, the annual meeting of the stockholders of Guaymas Water Supply Company, Limited, an American incorporation organized under the laws of Arizona. Mr. Duffy is attorney for the company.

Harry J. Karns, manager of the Sonora Auto Company, has his hands full these days attending to the business of his company and that of the Nogales Gas Company. Harry has the confidence of everybody, and is "making good," as he always does.

Squire M. M. Trickey of Washington Camp, has been spending several days in the city, having business here of a personal nature. Mrs. Trickey is visiting friends and acquaintances in Tombstone, where it is sincerely hoped she will soon regain her health.

Tom Gittins is back from Sonora where he has recently been in the employ of a big mining company. Tom is one of the best millmen in the country. Anyone needing the services of a first-class, thoroughly reliable man should not forget Tom. He'll deliver the goods.

C. T. Jones, after an extended visit to his old home in Alabama, returned home last night, mighty glad to get back. Charley visited many of the big eastern cities and reports having had a fine time. He looks it. During his absence from the city, Harry McKeel carefully looked after the Jones lunch room.

This morning a number of Elks left for Tucson to attend the great second annual barbecue, at Pastime Park, given under the auspices of Tucson Lodge No. 385, B. P. O. E. Of course A. E. Reddoch headed the local bunch as usual, and it goes without saying the boys will have a royal good time.

Juan B. Elias, of Sopori, this county, has been in the city several days this week transacting private business. Juan says since the arrival at his home of little Juan Madero Elias, life is one continuous round of pleasure, and if the boy grows up to be as good a Democrat as its father and General Madero, he'll be satisfied.

H. A. Smith, the Hermosillo land agent who has large valuable tracts of land for sale, in Sonora, some of which is located near the capital city, has opened branch offices in Tucson, where he can be found when not in Hermosillo. Mr. Smith has the goods and those doing business with him will find him perfectly reliable in every respect.

California parties are busy erecting a two-stamp mill on gold, claims a few miles north-west of Nogales, near the railroad. They claim that the mill will save 98 per cent, and later a cyanide plant will be installed to recover the other two per cent from the tailings. We have not seen this remarkable mill, which must certainly be a wonder.

William Meaney, the millwright, is back from the Bender placer gold fields situated a short distance from Santa Ana, Sonora, where he superintended the installation of a 100-ton plant, which he says is one of the best of the kind he ever saw. "Mr. Bender is one of the best men I ever worked for," said Meaney, "and I hope he and his associates will make a barrel of money."

W. K. Meade, of Tombstone, many years United States marshal of Arizona, stopped over in Nogales last Thursday night on his way to Patagonia. Mr. Meade is an old-time personal friend of Scott White, ex-sheriff of Cochise county, who for the present is making Nogales his home. Mr. Meade has resided in Arizona thirty-six years and is one of the territory's best known citizens.

J. R. Gray, of San Francisco, has been appointed traveling freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific lines in Arizona, with headquarters in Tucson, vice E. A. Macon, who was recently promoted. Mr. Gray is one of the best known men in the West in railroad circles, having been with the Southern Pacific for a number of years, but more recently having been connected with industrial enterprises in California.

Harry Greenwell, president of the Greenwell-Arizona Mining Company, has been a business visitor in town a couple of days from the Golden Rose Camp, where active mining has been in progress a long time. Mr. Greenwell reports everything fine at camp, even if half the little chicks recently brought from California, did die. The Golden Rose is one of the most pleasant mining camps in the country, and all who visit the mines say they are looking better than ever.

Yesterday Jack Kelly, the mining man, went to Tucson to transact important business connected with his oil and mining interests in Sonora. This evening Mrs. Kelly and the children will arrive from Cananea to make their home in Nogales until after the war in Mexico is over. Recent reports from the Valadara mine in Sonora, are most encouraging, and Jack feels certain of the future. He has rented the Chase residence for the summer.

Colonel Partridge, the English mining engineer, who is operating the Austerlitz mines over in the Oro Blanco district, this county, is in the city, bringing with him most encouraging news from the old mines which for a long time were the property of Dr. A. H. Noy and his sons, from whom Colonel Partridge and his associates acquired a large interest some time ago. Colonel Partridge says he is going to make the Austerlitz pay big returns on the investment.

Major Carlos F. von Petersdorff, of Coahuila, Sinaloa, Mexico, who will be pleasantly remembered by residents of Nogales and Cananea, where he resided several years ago, was a visitor in the city Tuesday on his way to Los Angeles, where he went on private business. Major Petersdorff and Lieutenant Fred Krohn were school mates in Germany. Both are prospering in Mexico, where they have resided since leaving the United States several years ago.

Mr. Woodward, a prominent mining man from Paris, France, who has been inspecting mining property in Sonora, arrived from the south yesterday and immediately went to the Sisters' Hospital to receive medical treatment. While traveling in an automobile from El Tajo mine to the railway station, a tall cactus struck the gentleman in the eye, and it was at first feared he would lose the use of it. Dr. Smolker has charge of the case and at last reports his patient was getting along fine.

Thursday Hermann Clauser, the Ohio oil expert, who is interested in the West Coast Oil Company, accompanied a number of Guaymas gentlemen who are interested in oil, out to Mascarenas, where the first well is now being drilled by Chas. Brinton, one of the most expert oil drillers in the country. H. E. Stevens, manager of the company, reports work progressing in a very satisfactory manner and he has great hopes of striking oil. Mr. Clauser makes his headquarters at the Montezuma hotel, where he has pleasant apartments.

Dr. J. K. Bentley, president of the Richfield Copper Company, accompanied by Mr. George Stark, a director of the company, are guests at the National hotel from Scranton, Pa. Major J. A. Cooper, vice president, and John Glasson, manager of the company, are also registered at the National hotel. The gentlemen will shortly leave for the company's copper properties down in the Ures district, Sonora, where active operations will be commenced under the management of Mr. Glasson, who is one of the best mine managers in the country.

This morning Mr. Fred C. Emery, president of La Cobreza Mining Company, accompanied by his wife, little daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bentley of Blackpool, England, departed for the mines in Sonora, a short distance from Noria, where Mr. and Mrs. Bentley will enjoy camp life for a week or ten days. Mr. Bentley is largely interested in Sonora mines. He visits here many times and is well and favorably known in Nogales and northern Sonora. Before returning to the United States he and Mrs. Bentley will visit Hermosillo and Guaymas.

E. E. Bethell, manager of the Washington Trading Company, who spent Wednesday in Nogales, is highly elated over the outlook for his section of the country, in a mining way. He said the bonanza ore chute in the Three R. mine owned by Richardson & Crepin, of Patagonia, is bigger and richer than ever, and everybody in Patagonia believes a real boom is due there as a result. In the Apache mine owned by Mr. Bethell good ore has been encountered, and the World's Fair and other mines in the immediate vicinity of Patagonia, never looked better. The Santa Cruz & Sonora Reduction Company have injected new life into mining in the districts around Patagonia, and as a result the whole county will be benefitted.

Mr. E. V. Dodge, manager of the Cabrillo Mining Company's rich silver mines in Sonora, a short distance from Noria, from which several carloads of high-grade ore have been shipped, is at the Montezuma hotel, being accompanied by his family.

Samples of silver ore, great masses of the native stuff, running thousands of ounces to the ton, sent up from the Spiritu mines by Superintendent Joe Scott, were received here this week and have attracted a great deal of interest. The Spiritu is about forty miles east of Inuria, Sonora, Mexico. It was worked hundreds of years ago by the natives, who no doubt mined just such bonanza ore as that recently encountered by Supt. Scott. The property is owned by A. C. Bernard of Guaymas and Chas. McCully, the English promoter, who financed the West Coast Oil Company, now operating out at Mascarenas station, in Sonora, a few miles from Nogales. Samples of the bonanza ore can be seen at THE BORDER VIDEITE office.

The case of the United States against Grant Bros. will again come before the supreme court of the territory on May 3, when a motion for a new trial which has been made by attorneys for Grant Bros. will be argued. The government instituted proceedings against Grant Bros. a contracting firm, for violation of federal laws relating to the importation of alien labor, and the court of the first instance awarded the government damages in the sum of $45,000. The case was appealed to the supreme court of the territory and the lower court's award was affirmed. The defendant then made a motion for a new trial, which will be argued May 3. In case the motion is denied it is likely that an appeal will be taken to the United States supreme court.

Con O'Keefe, United States collector of customs at this port, is happy. He has just received word from Washington that the President and Senate are with him. When Red Lopez and his rebels took Agua Prieta recently, Con assumed the responsibility of closing the Douglas customs house, and so notified Washington, by wire. When the Mexican government again got possession of the Mexican customs house, he referred the American customs house, and reported to his government. Now Uncle Sam advises Con that only the president has authority to close and open ports of entry. The President has forgiven Con; so has the Senate, and the genial Irishman is supremely happy. Con is innocent, but the President tells him not to do it again.
